

XV International Congress of Medical Students and Young Scientists

Only for foreign authors!!!

Dear colleagues

On behalf of the Organizing Committee of the 15th International Medical Congress of Students and Young Scientists I am delighted to invite You to the Congress, which will take place in Ternopil at 27-29 of April, 2011.

The scientific program of the Congress addresses various issues in the spheres of theoretical, experimental and practical medicine.

The aim of the Congress is to consolidate the efforts of young professionals in order to promote better social health in the world. Medical students and young scientists (aged below 35) are invited.

I do hope that both the scientific program and social events during our Congress will be warmly remembered by the participants.

Looking forward to welcoming you in Ternopil.

With the best regards,

Rector of
